Supervisors order county code study

By DENA BERNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday asked the county's Planning Commission to conduct a study of uniform building codes being used by Gulf Coast municipalities.

The request was made after John Scaffie, attorney for the commission, presented the board with a petition requesting the adoption of countywide zoning and the Southern Building Code. The county does not presently have a uniform building code.

Board President A. A. "Dolph" Keller made the recommendation for the study after the board accepted the petition. Further action on the petition is not expected until a commission representative presents the results of the study.

In addition to the municipalities, the study is expected to review areas with situations similar to those created in Hancock County by lack of a building code.

The petition is signed by some 450 people and was originally presented to the commission last week by the Shoreline Park Civic Association, which is concerned about problems stemming from raw sewage in ditches and scattered construction in the Shoreline Park Subdivision, residences built on inadequate supports and faulty wiring in some homes.

The commission chose to defer action on the petition until it could be presented to the supervisors.

Also Monday, the supervisors met with County Engineer Larry Seal to discuss the problem with the Caesar-Necaise Road bridge.

The bridge is currently closed for repairs that have been delayed by late receipt of designs from the State Highway Department and problems with pilings obtained from the Crown-Zellerbach Co.

The pilings had to be re-treated and the depth of penetration had to be changed, Seal said.

"It was not a contractor's problem. We're hoping now to have the reassembly completed by the end of next week," the engineer stated.

He added that some rapid repair will still need to be done after the bridge is reassembled.

Seal said the bridge will remain closed for pavement repair if they can be completed in a few days.

"If it's going to be longer, we'll open the bridge temporarily and decide later whether to close it again or have a flagman instead during the pavement repair," the engineer added.

Seal also discussed changing priorities on some state aid road projects that have been awaiting funding through the State Legislature.

The new priorities put an 18-mile resurfacing project first, followed by repairs to Firetower Road second and Fenton Road third.

The resurfacing project, including portions of Caesar-Necaise, Flat Top and Picaune-Kiln Roads, should be started in the near future, Seal said.

In other business, the board heard a report from Jay Marsh, chief of the Hancock County Arson Investigation Squad.

Marsh reported that Hancock County has had 249 fires in 1984, most of which were brush fires.

However, he said 35 to 40 of the fires reported were structural fires with about 2 being due to arson or suspected arson.

The board also approved employment of Frances Miteer and Pamela Metzler by the Hancock County Election Commission for a project purging outdated names from the county's voter registration books.

According to Charles F. Gottschalk, 250 names were removed from the books last month because the people no longer vote in the county.

Some 51 voters' addresses were corrected.

Gottschalk noted that laws allow three 15-day periods during the year for purging of voter registration books. The process, he said, will be repeated in May and September.

The board also took under advisement a petition requesting the inclusion of the Shoreline Park area in the county's present bird sanctuary.

The petition was signed by about 250 residents of the area. If the action is taken as requested, the discharge of firearms in Shoreline Park will be prohibited, Herbert J. "Skip" Marsh said.

Residents attending the supervisors' meeting expressed concern about shots being fired near dwellings.

In addition, the board appointed Mary McDonnell to succeed her late husband John on the Jail Committee, voted to abandon an unimproved road known as "The Horseshoe" in the buffer zone off the old Kiln-Picaune Road for the Bayou Bacon Hunting Club and authorized the Hancock County Extension Service to advertise for a replacement for resigning 4-H Youth Agent Ricky Smith.

United Energy tells earnings

United Energy Resources, Inc. today reported unaudited consolidated net income of $26.8 million on revenues of $1.1 billion for the first quarter of 1984, compared with net income of $39.7 million on revenues of $1.3 billion for the first quarter of 1983.

Earnings per share for the first quarter of 1984 were 96 cents, compared with the $1.43 per share reported for the first quarter of 1983.

J. Hugh Roff Jr., United Energy's chairman, president and chief executive officer, stated, "The earnings reduction reflects continued intense competition within our markets and effects of the natural gas deliverability surplus.

"Although these factors existed in the first quarter of 1983, they became increasingly pronounced as the year progressed. We believe, however, that good progress has been made in improving our competitive position through intensified marketing efforts and continued controls on purchased gas, operating and transportation costs."

United Energy Resources, through its subsidiaries, is engaged in natural gas transmission; oil and gas exploration, development and production; contract drilling and well servicing; and bulk liquids terminaling and marketing. New York Stock Exchange listing: UnEnrg. Ticker Symbol: UER.

HOSPITALS—

We need them

Hospitals exist because we need them. They are created to serve the residents of the community in which they are located. They belong to everyone. Our hospitals are among our most valued community resources. They are there to serve us when we need them, with the most advanced technical equipment and skilled, dedicated personnel.

But hospitals have something more. They have people who are the 'Caring Kind'—individuals who bring a personal commitment to their work every day of the year, a commitment to serve the human needs of each of us.

This week, from May 6 through May 12, is National Hospital Week. It is a week we set aside each year to acknowledge the contributions made to our welfare by our nation's hospital employees.

The theme for National Hospital Week '84 is "We're the Caring Kind." It aptly describes the employees and volunteers who serve in our hospitals.

During National Hospital Week we would like to suggest that this theme be expanded to include each one of us. Each of us benefits from our hospital's existence. We urge you to take advantage of National Hospital Week to become involved with your hospital, as a volunteer or as a concerned citizen. Your hospital has a wide variety of activities for you to choose from.

This week, let's all resolve to become one of the 'Caring Kind'—all the year through.

Friday will be a big day for the National Space Technology Laboratories with the dedication ceremony for the new Visitors Center.

The event is set for 3:30 p.m., and we understand there are many new items which will be on display.

We know a lot of work has gone into the Visitors Center and are hoping all residents of the area will at one time or another visit the facility.

While on the subject of the National Space Technology Laboratories, on occasion we hear rumors of the possibility of space launches being made in Hancock County.

We contacted Mack Herring, public affairs officer at NSTL, a few days ago about the possibilities of such space launches.

Herring told us the only role for NSTL in Hancock County was for testing and not launching.

He indicated that Space Shuttle testing is already scheduled through the 80's and into the 90's at the local facility.

NSTL is described as the nation's Rocket Testing Center and possibly more testing could go further into the 90's with the development of the Space Station, according to Herring.

The big day for the City of New Orleans will be Sunday with the opening of the Louisiana World Exposition.

A lot of talk and media coverage has been given to the World's Fair and many citizens are ready for the big event.

The big day all Hancock Countians may want to mark on their calendars is August 20, as it will be designated as Hancock County Day at the Mississippi Pavilion.

We know of a large number of residents who are already planning on attending the designated day.

It is estimated to take at least seven days to cover the entire fair.

As most of you know, Amtrak will provide train service to the fair from Mobile with a Waveland-Bay St. Louis stop.

The schedule for the Waveland Avenue stop is 9:11 a.m., with the train departing New Orleans at 6:30 p.m. and returning to Waveland at 7:43 p.m.

In case you are wondering, rail passengers will be able to travel direct to the World's Fair site via an Regional Transit Authority bus.

It is our understanding the Central Business District shuttle will make three trips in the morning from Union Passenger Terminal, and three in the evenings from the fair to the terminal.

Basefare is listed as 60 cents on information we have received.

As most of you know, Greyhound Bus lines also use the Union Passenger Terminal in New Orleans.

We hope you enjoy the fair.

Small-business Angle

by John Sloan

America's Biggest Business:

Small Business

Each year during May, the nation celebrates Small Business Week (this year the week of May 6-11). It is an opportunity for those of us in small business and for the rest of the country to focus on the dimensions of America's small and independent-business community.

More than half of our private work force is employed by small business. Some four million small enterprises employ workers.

Self employment is the main source for about eight million people. And more than 16½ million Americans are involved in some type of recorded, independent business activity.

While the direct contribution of smaller firms to the Gross National Product has been declining for some time now (losing ground to government), small business produces many goods and services that it is the world's fourth greatest economic power.

Imagine, only the United States as a whole, Soviet Russia, and Japan produce more; West Germany's gross national product follows American small business.

Many of the inventions that have spawned large industries in this country and the world have the ideas of small-business owners; innovations such as air conditioning, the airplane, catalytic petroleum cracking, continuous casting, the gyrocompass, insulin, laser technology, the optical scanner, the pacemaker, personal computer, turbojet engine, and xerography.

A recent study done for the Small Business Administration by Gelman Research Associates found that small firms produce 2½ times more innovations per employee than do large firms, and more importantly, they bring them to market in two-thirds the time.

Small entrepreneurs are also innovators in the organizational aspects of business. That type of innovation has as significant an impact on productivity and growth as does technological change.

Henry Ford and Ray Kroc are two examples of pioneers in organizational reform. Today many large firms are reorganizing to make their management structure more like that of smaller businesses.

But perhaps the most important contribution of small business to today's economy is in the area of job creation. Professor David Birch at MIT has determined that more than half of the net new jobs created between 1969 and 1976 were in independent businesses.

He found that 80 percent of the new jobs were in business locations or establishments with fewer than 100 employees and in firms that had been in business less than five years.

Perhaps more remarkable, Professor Peter Drucker has noted that during the depression years of 1981 or 1983, the Fortune 500 companies lost a total of three million domestic jobs while entrepreneurial business, as Drucker calls it, added approximately one million jobs.

The NFIB Quarterly Economic Report for the fourth quarter of 1983 showed that employment among small-business owners continued as it had all during 1983, leading the way out of the recession.

Small- and independent-business owners can be proud of this role in the American economy. During May, the rest of the nation is reminded of the contributions of America's biggest business, small business.

Matters of Health

EDITOR'S NOTE: This special column on hospitals' adaptation to the new cost-containment program of the federal government for charges for Medicare patients is presented by University Hospital at the University of Mississippi Medical Center. National Hospital Week is May 6-12 across America.

Q: I'm confused about DRGs. What do they have to do with Medicare? How will they affect me?

A: "DRGs," or "diagnosis-related groups," is the new method the federal government will use to reimburse hospital charges for Medicare patients.

It's designed to hold down medical costs and promote efficiency in the delivery of health care in hospitals.

You, the patient, will probably not notice much difference in hospital care, your charges or admission procedures.

DRGs will most affect hospitals' management of costs. When a Medicare patient is admitted, one principal diagnosis will be made by his physician, and the government will pay the hospital a predetermined set amount for that diagnosis, regardless of actual costs the patient may incur during his hospital stay.

For example, the government will always reimburse the hospital the same amount for every gallstone operation; the hospital is expected to treat the patient within the cost limitations of that particular DRG.

For certain patient complications, the hospital will receive additional payments from Medicare.

There are 467 of these diagnosis-related groups, and every Medicare patient will be assigned to one and only one of these DRGs upon admission.

The hospital will be reimbursed the amount for this category, regardless of the actual cost of treatment. Under the old system, the hospital was paid on the basis of actual costs for all services provided during the patient's hospitalization.

Q: What effect will this have on the care I receive?

A: None. The goal of all hospitals is to deliver high quality medical care. DRGs are designed to help hospitals deliver care more efficiently.

This means that only necessary tests (medically indicated) will be ordered, and routine testing that is nonessential for that condition will not be done.

For each DRG, there is an allowable length-of-stay. A patient is kept longer than the allowable length-of-stay only when it is absolutely necessary, and medically indicated. Your physician will still give you the same care and attention.

Most hospitals will attempt to cut costs by making their staff more cost-conscious in all areas of operations, not patient care alone.

So this system applies to Medicare in patients only?

A: Yes. However, many private insurance companies are beginning to use some form of this system because it cuts their costs and they pay for only essential services and hospital time, instead of luxuries.

One major insurance company has initiated its new system based on DRGs in several states. Companies generally use the 467 government-defined groups, but calculate their own schedules of payment.

These diagnosis-related groups are expected to have a major impact on the cost of health care in America.

Health care costs have greatly increased in the past decade, and they are consuming a greater portion of the federal budget.

This system has been initiated with the goal of cutting health care costs, which are certain to keep increasing for the federal government as Americans continue to live longer and as the baby-boom generation ages.

Right now this system is being phased in. It applies only to hospitals. Exempt are nursing homes, children's hospitals, psychiatric institutions, rehabilitation centers and other long-term care facilities.

However, they may be affected in the future.

Once again, the emphasis of the program is cost-containment, and hospitals must become more efficient in their delivery of health care.

Quality of care will still be emphasized. Medicare patients should not notice a great deal of difference under this system from care rendered under the old system.

And finally, most hospital changes will be internal—that is, making staffs and equipment more productive and efficient.

Stennis Field area resident requests nonresidential site be found for community work center

Sir: Following is an open letter to Mr. Dolph Kellar, president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors:

Dear Mr. Kellar: On behalf of the many residents who attended the meeting Monday night, May 7, as well as those who were unable to attend, we appreciate the opportunity to express our concerns about the location of a community work center at Stennis Airport.

We trust the board will give due consideration to the opinions expressed at the public meeting. If an alternative site for the community work center can be acquired in a nonresidential area of the county, we request that the board reject establishing a community work center altogether.

Please do not discredit the intelligence of Hancock County citizens; we are all aware that the board carries awesome fiscal responsibilities.

Nevertheless, the finances of the county are only one factor of county government. A higher responsibility is due to the citizens who are the lifeblood of the county.

Our country was founded upon the ideal that government would act only upon the consent of the governed. I am sure you will agree that the views expressed at the meeting reflected sincere concerns about our lives, our liberties and our pursuits of happiness. Don't misplace the trust we have in you, our elected officials, to represent the conscience of the community.

Very truly yours,

Arthritis telethon nets $24,522 on Gulf Coast

The 1984 Arthritis Foundation Telethon raised a total of $24,522 locally, according to Julie Williams, director of the foundation's Gulf Coast Branch. Broadcast by WLOX TV Station, Channel 13, with a remote broadcast from WGCM Radio, the local program was part of a TV network of stations across the U.S. Williams said the telethon was held in the Gulf Coast area, with a focus on the Mississippi Delta. The telethon was hosted by country music entertainer Mickey Gilley and a cast of other performers. The national figure at sign-off was reported to be $2,201,648. "Arthritis affects over 36 million Americans—over 35,000 in the Gulf Coast area alone," Williams said. "That's one in seven people, one in every three families. Each year it claims a million new victims across the nation. This outpouring of kindness from local residents, businesses, civic organizations and Channel 13 will enable the Mississippi Chapter of the foundation to provide additional patient services in the Gulf Coast area and support vital research in to rheumatic disease. With headquarters located in Jackson and a branch at 200 Pass Road, Gulfport, the Gulf Coast chapter is one of 71 chapters dedicated to defeating the nation's number one crippler.

It was with delight that I saw the blackberries—and their close cousins, the dewberries, coming to life again after last winter's freezing weather.

I wasn't amazed, of course, because those luscious berries well, not those, but their predecessors, are one of the first and most abundant wild crops of America, turned by our ancestors into pies, puddings, jams, cobbles, and even homemade wine and cordials.

Is it any wonder that our country has survived, with such original settlers as this?

Just about everything else about my house succumbed to the freezing weather of the Yuletide, including my spirits when I received the plumbing bills from burst pipes—but nature has a way of bringing things back to life, and my weeds are thriving quite well all over the lawn!

So, I've been foraging for blackberries all around the place and in the adjoining woods, and along with my bounty of berries, I have the bramble scratches to prove it! That's what blackberry bushes used to be called—"brambles" and, if you've ever gone "blackberrying" you know why!

And, incidentally, don't ever pick blackberries when they're red, because that's when they're still green, if you follow me—you have to wait until they're that wonderful purple, just about black color—and you have to beat the birds to them!

Blackberry wines and cordials in early America were a rather special homemade drink, and colonial housewives prided themselves on their supply—and the blackberry cobbler soon became a mainstay of the dessert offering.

The word, "cobbler" in fact meant "to eat and to drink"—desserts such as deep fruit pies as well as drinks spiked with wines and liquors, and garnished with fruit, both hearty sustenance for the colonists.

The origin of the name "cobbler" is unknown, as far as I can determine—and you know how I love to delve into history—but there's speculation that it comes from "cobble up"—which means "to put together hurriedly"—that's why it's one of my favorite desserts—so here's:

BLACKBERRY COBBLER
Pastry for double crust pie
4 cups fresh blackberries
2 cups sugar
½ tsp. nutmeg
4 tsp. apple cider vinegar
½ cup hot water
4 Tbsp. butter or margarine, divided

Roll out half of the pastry and cut into inch wide strips, put on cookie sheet and bake in a 450° oven until very lightly browned.

Meanwhile, mix together the berries, sugar, nutmeg and vinegar and water, and spoon half of the mixture into a baking dish and dot with two tablespoons of the butter or margarine. Arrange the baked strips of pastry atop, cover with the remainder of the berry mixture and dot with the remaining butter or margarine.

Roll out the pastry that's left over, and cut into strips about an inch wide, then arrange in lattice fashion over the top of the cobbler. Bake in a 425° oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until lightly browned, then reduce the heat to 300° and bake for an hour. (Eight servings).

Or, if you're in a hurry, hurry, do as I do, mix up the pastry, drop it over the berries, and bake and take your chances!

Book Review

Husband/wife team write second book

Handling the everyday aspects of student behavior in the classroom is the theme of a new book by University of Mississippi educator Dr. Joan Carson and her husband, Dr. Peter Carson, titled "Any Teacher Can! Practical Strategies for Effective Classroom Management."

The Carsons, residents of Clarksdale, began writing the book while their first book, "Don't Say You Can't When You Mean You Won't," was being published. Their initial effort—a self-help book which deals with relating to others and taking charge of your life—received marvelous response and has been published in English and Spanish editions.

Their new book, "Any Teacher Can," focuses primarily on effective ways to prevent and remediate student misbehaviors. Mrs. Carson said a "how to" approach is utilized which encourages readers to explore the basics of behavior management and shows them how to implement reinforcement principles by using a variety of workable strategies.

"Easy applications are stressed, explained and illustrated with examples concerning average and exceptional students across various subject areas," she said, adding that these include early childhood, elementary and secondary settings.

The book furthermore emphasizes diverse school factors, according to her husband. These, he said, include a positive classroom atmosphere that fosters learning, effective communication, instructional clarity and teachers overcoming pressures, problems and anger of disciplining problem children.

"We treat the problems associated with over-reliance on physical punishment and relate legal, ethical and humanitarian considerations," he said.

Mrs. Carson said that the idea of writing the book was derived from her dissatisfaction with the books she was using in her courses. "I felt a need for a textbook that dealt with these teacher-related issues," she explained. "I had never been pleased with most of the sources available for my classes."

An associate professor of elementary education at Ole Miss, she originated and implemented in the University's curriculum a course on discipline that is required in some degree programs for state teacher certification.

BECAUSE IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE...

There's a lot of talk about energy these days. At Mississippi Power Company, we're aware that you read the papers and watch the news. You pick up anxieties about nuclear power, the environment, alternative energy sources, pending legislation... a host of things.

Mississippi Power is concerned about those same things, but we view them from a different vantage point. We're working to deal with these issues night and day. For instance, Mississippi Power and our parent company, The Southern Company, are involved in solar research, synthetic more efficient ways to burn our primary boiler fuel coal.

But we know the real issue is the way you live; the style of life you've come to expect and enjoy—a way of life that will provide a healthy, productive Mississippi economy. If the future is to be as bright as the past, we'll need energy, lots of it. At Mississippi Power, we're working day and night to make a difference in your future.

Pearlington fires under investigation

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The barking of a dog was credited with saving the lives of a Pearlington couple before dawn Sunday.

Henry Arable, No. 6 River Road, Belle Isle Subdivision, said, "Our dog Mitze was barking. I looked out the window and saw the camp nextdoor in blaze from the front. I awakened my wife and we quickly dressed."

Arable's wife called the fire department, and as she descended down the steps from the raised building she suffered shoulder, chest, and right wrist burns from the radiant heat, according to Ed Friloux, Hancock County arson squad investigator.

Friloux said, "Mrs. Arable was led from her burning home by three black couples who were fishing on the river, and then taken by a neighbor to Sidel Memorial Hospital, treated and released."

Jerry Watkins, West Hancock Volunteer Fire chief, reported both homes were in flames when they arrived at the scene.

"A pickup truck owned by one of Arable's sons-in-law, was physically carried from the yard. The steering wheel was locked, and several men lifted up the vehicle from the back to turn it and get it out of the yard and away from the fire," Watkins added.

The Hancock County Arson Squad which includes Friloux, Jay Marsh, Reggie Fayard Jr. and Richard Fayard are investigating the origin of the fire, as Friloux said arson is suspected.

The other camp destroyed was owned by Malcolm Morris of Kenner, La., Friloux stated.

Fire companies responding included West Hancock, NASA, Waveland, Clermont Harbor and West Hancock Volunteer.

Friloux estimated winds at 15-20 miles per hour drove the flames from the unoccupied camp into the Arable dwelling.

Both camp owners reportedly had no insurance, Friloux said.

Damages listed included two camps destroyed; a 1983 Ford T-Bird owned by one of Arable's sons-in-law; 14-ft. fiberglass boat; boat shed; riding mower; motor bikes; 50 per cent loss to pier; light damages to a 14-foot fibre glass speed hull; and 14-foot aluminum flat boat.

On Wednesday, Pearlington resident Frank Turner reported that a fund has been set up at Hancock Bank in Bay St. Louis for the Henry Arable family.

"Mr. Arable has a heart problem and is on disability and they lost everything but the clothing on their backs. I have also spoken to the sheriff's office and they will pick up clothing for the family," Banks stated.

The Arable family has been residing in Pearlington for six years.

HOMES DESTROYED—An early Sunday morning fire destroyed two Pearlington homes. The cause of the fire is being investigated by the Hancock County Arson Squad. Among those at the scene are, from left, Jerry Watkins, West Hancock Volunteer Fire Department chief; Reggie Fayard, arson squad; Richard Fayard, arson squad; Jay Marsh, arson squad; Ed Friloux, arson squad; and Henry Arable, owner of home to left which was destroyed. Arable attributes his dog Mitze as saving him and wife from being burned to death as the couple were awakened by his barking. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

"It's absurd!"

"I think we ought to take action on it tonight," Seuzeneau said.

"If there are any changes to be made, they can be done in a ordinary routine manner."

Thrillley's motion passed, but after other business was concluded Seuzeneau moved to bring it back to the table for reconsideration, and after the council agreed to write to the four respondents Seuzeneau moved that the map be accepted as recommended by the planning commission in September, 1983.

Seuzeneau's motion passed, with Councilmen Wilmer Seymour, Harry Farve, Gary Griffin and Seuzeneau voting for and Thrillley voting against.

Also Tuesday, Mayor Larry Bennett suggested the council should consider sidewalk repair before someone is hurt, and the council agreed to proceed with plans for sidewalk repair on Second Street from Union Street to Ulman Avenue, on North Beach Boulevard from US-90 to Second Street, and on Main Street from Touline to Second Street.

Bennett also said he would obtain cost figures on lightning-arrest equipment for lift stations throughout the city.

In other business the council:

—Accepted the $2,375 bid of Mel's Electrical and Refrigeration Service of Bay St. Louis for air-conditioning at City Hall.

—Took under advisement bids for lift stations at Spanish Acres and gas line materials for Central Avenue; and —Agreed to advertise for bids for rehabilitation construction, heating, insulation, and pest control services for the new housing rehabilitation project.

School board seeks ways to cut telephone costs

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Hancock County School District trustees are considering changing telephone systems in an effort to cut communications costs.

Monday they asked Superintendent Terrell Randolph to come up with proposals for new systems.

Randolph told the trustees Monday he is investigating several alternatives to the current system, which makes supervision of long-distance calls difficult.

Randolph said there are presently 25 telephone stations at the Hancock North Central complex.

There are eight phone lines at the school, with two lines in the elementary school and three lines in the high school, plus telephones for the cafeteria, the bus barn, the coach's office and a pay telephone.

"It would be better, he said, to have all calls channeled through a central telephone clerk.

The trustees agreed that a new system should provide that all long-distance calls be channeled through one person so they can be properly logged.

Randolph has already taken one step toward cutting costs, by joining Community Group, a system that offers a ten to 15 percent discount on long-distance calls.

Also Monday, the trustees appointed members to two committees involved in special education program planning.

The district's local survey committee will be comprised of Elvina Barnes representing Hancock North Central Elementary School, Wallace Fairley representing HNC Junior and Senior High Schools and Kathryn Norton representing Gulfview and Charles B. Murphy Elementary Schools.

Because the committee work will be conducted after regular school hours, the three teachers will be paid a salary supplement of $360 per year.

Also serving on the local survey committee are Myrna Bougeois, examiner, and Jeannette Handshoe, special education coordinator for the school district.

The trustees also appointed Elvina Barnes, Kathryn Norton, Charlotte Johnson, William Haddock and Jeannette Handshoe to the district's extended school year committee.

In other business the trustees:

—Approved school district 1983-84 investments and 1984-85 investments to date, and designated Randolph as the district's investment agent in day-by-day investment operations.

Randolph noted that the district makes four or five investments each month.

Interest earnings, he said, are designated as investment earnings, budgeted this year at $40,000 and currently having earned about $42,000.

"These funds are also budgeted somewhere as an expenditure," he pointed out.

—Approved the 1984-85 employment at Hancock North Central Elementary School of Elvina Barnes, inadvertently omitted from a teachers' list submitted earlier for approval;

—Accepted the low bid of Bert Allen Iauzu of Gulfport for three four-cylinder, four-speed pickup trucks at $5,430 each;

—Accepted a $34,120 bid from Data

Processing Consultants of Hattiesburg, the only bidder on equipment to upgrade the district's Wang computer;

—Took under advisement bids for a double convection oven and gas fryer for Gulfview Elementary School;

—Approved the adult education program application for 1984-85;

—Approved a request for Hancock North Central's band to perform at the World's Fair in New Orleans, La., on Aug. 20, "Hancock County Day";

—Approved travel requests by Randolph for a meeting with State Finance Department and State Department of Audit officials in Jackson May 9-10, by Randolph and board members to attend a seminar on managing school trust lands in Jackson May 31-June 1, and by Special Education Coordinator Jeannette Handshoe to attend a Hattiesburg Learning Resource Center's advisory board committee meeting in Biloxi May 3; and —Gave permission to Greater Mount Zion Church in Pearllington to use the Charles B. Murphy Elementary School gymnasium May 11.

Commission hears plans for two subdivisions

The Hancock County Planning Commission has given preliminary approval to plans for two subdivisions in the southern part of the county.

The first, in Ansley north of Lower Bay Road, is to be developed by owner Bert Courge, county supervisor for District 1.

Plans for the property, which Courge said has an elevation range of about 14 feet, include 47 tracts, most of them three acres in size.

The second subdivision, Shiloh Ranch Estate, is located near Springwood Park and abuts the buffer zone of the National Space Technology Laboratories.

Ron Galarza said plans include 12 lots, all exceeding three acres. According to Galarza, elevations range from a low of 14 feet to a high of 17 feet.

Percolation tests to determine whether the land can sustain septic tanks are not required under the county's flood plain regulations for home sites three acres or more in size.

Building permits in the county are required only in regions designated as flood plan areas.

When advised that he would need Health Department approval for tracts under three acres in his subdivision, Courge said if percolation tests are negative he will combine smaller tracts to create larger ones.

Commission members agreed to call a special meeting to take final action on both plans, but did not set a meeting date.

Also last Thursday, Joan Breland presented a proposal for an overnight campground site with 150 hookups on Lakeshore Road across from St. John's Catholic Church.

Although the proposed use for the land, owned by Breland and P.L. Bordelon, does not come under the jurisdiction of the planning commission, it does fall under Health Department regulations.

Breland agreed to furnish the commission with copies of approval documents from the Health Department.

The commission also gave final approval for construction of the last 18 units of townhouses at Diamondhead.

theme park with a picnic area and markers describing the history of the installation and its location on the banks of the East Pearl River.

The center's 90-foot Space Tower is open to visitors and provides a panoramic view of the 13,500-acre installation.

NSSTL's reputation as a "scientific center of excellence" is widespread as evidenced by the growing number of visitors each year.

Last year more than 100,000 people from all 50 states and 72 foreign countries visited NSSTL and this year, with the 1984 Louisiana World Exposition in nearby New Orleans, NSSTL expects to host some 250,000 visitors.

Part of the overall enhancement of the visitor program is a new operating schedule. Beginning May 7, the center will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Previously the center was open only on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There is no charge for admission to the Visitors Center or for the guided tours which are conducted throughout the day and cameras are allowed.

Reservations for tours are not required but are suggested for large groups. Groups may reserve a date and time for a tour by calling (601) 688-2370. A 24-hour information line is also available and the telephone number is (601) 688-2377.

NSSTL is on the Mississippi Gulf

Coast, 45 miles east of New Orleans, and is located on Highway 607 two miles north of Interstate 10 and four miles south of Interstate 59.

CONCERNED CITIZENS—A large group of citizens attended a meeting Monday night at the District Four Community Center to participate in a discussion on a proposed Department of Corrections Community Work Center at Stennis International Airport. Michael Chambers, southern regional coordinator of community services for the Mississippi Department of Corrections, addressed the group and answered questions along with Hancock County Board of Supervisors. The area residents urged the supervisors to consider other locations than Stennis for the facility. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Kellar says Stennis work center site not definite

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A.A. (Dolph) Kellar, president of the Hancock County board of supervisors, indicated the selection of Stennis International Airport remains 'kind of up in the air' as the location for a Mississippi Department of Corrections Community Work Center after a meeting with concerned residents Monday.

In addition to the Hancock supervisors, Michael Chambers, southern regional coordinator-community services for the Mississippi Department of Corrections, met with over 100 area residents.

Chambers explained the type of facility and minimum security inmates who would be housed at the proposed site.

An expression of 'fear' was most predominant from those commenting about the proposed facility, with suggestions of the possibility of using other locations which are not so populated.

Yvonne Chapman Sills, Bay St. Louis attorney, and resident near Stennis, acted as coordinator for the meeting.

Among the sites suggested were the National Space and Technology Laboratories and Port Bienville from the spectators.

Chambers said water and sewerage had to be available before a site could be considered.

Many residents expressed concern about the possibility of their property being devalued along with Stennis Field's.

Four students from Annunciation School, Kiln, dressed in ball team uniforms, presented a petition to Kellar on behalf of the students expressing concern for their safety and opposing the facility's location.

One person expressed the need for a facility, stating, 'I've had a child in Parchman, and it is not a place you would want your child at. A lot of kids are at Parchman who should not be there.'

Fritz Harris, a nearby resident to Stennis, in expressing opposition, stated, 'A lot of money has been spent at the airport, and I realize not too much has been done, yet it has possibilities.'

Chambers said the work center would not be 'red carpeted with color TV' as some folks may visualize.

A Community Work Center is one of the Mississippi Department of Corrections community-based programs designed to provide gradual, systematic re-introduction of the offender into community life.

The proposed facility would house 75 inmates, each of whom will be closely screened by the Department of Corrections before being assigned, Chambers told the group.

Kellar said he felt Hancock County needed such a facility, as it would generate money and jobs needed as the county was 'trying to desperately keep this county's head above water.'

The county would benefit economically from free inmate labor, Chambers stated.

A similar work center in Hattiesburg produced some 145,000 man-hours, valued at over $500,000 during 1983, the Department of Corrections spokesman said.

The supervisors are to discuss a site choice within the next few days, Kellar indicated after the meeting.

Rumor

But Ball said FmHA would look for new offices if the rumor becomes fact.

The names of a doctor and a woman who reportedly signed incorporation papers for an abortion clinic in Pascagoula were mentioned at the ministers' meeting and again Tuesday as possible operators of the clinic, but Barber emphasized that he had no verification of that speculation.

The Rev. Ernest Culley of Word of Faith urged the council to take any measures legally available to prevent a clinic from opening.

"I have no intention of issuing a permit for this or any other abortion clinic in the city," Bennett assured a crowd of concerned citizens who filled the council chambers and spilled over into the hallway.

CLIMATE CRISIS

Last summer's record temperatures may be one of the signs that the earth's atmosphere is warming up. "Nova" looks at the reason for this change in the weather in a rebroadcast from last year of "The Climate Crisis" at 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 15, on Mississippi Educational Television.

Most meteorologists agree that the earth is growing fractionally warmer each year due to the Greenhouse Effect: as industry releases 40,000 tons of carbon dioxide, or CO₂, into the air every minute, carbon dioxide acts as the glass in a greenhouse, sealing the earth in its own warmth.

"The Climate Crisis" explains the Greenhouse Effect and the complex mathematical models by which climatologists reach their predictions.

'Spirit of Bay St. Louis' given excellent chance in Olympic Trials

By EDGAR PEREZ

The final phase of a six-month quest for a slot on the U.S. Olympic Sailing team by three young men from Bay St. Louis begins Saturday in Long Beach, Calif.

Dennis and Rod Stieffel and Randy Santa Cruz, representing the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club and Gulf Yachting Association, will sail ten races in the ensuing 14 days out of the Alamitos Bay Yacht Club there.

They will select their best eight finishes to compile what they hope will be the lowest point total scored by some 30 of the top Soling class teams in the U.S. expected to compete in the Long Beach Olympic Trials May 12-25.

The Bay St. Louis trio's odyssey began in December when they placed first in the 1983 Sugar Bowl Regatta at Southern Yacht Club in New Orleans, La.

Three other victories—Texas Mid-Winter Championships in Houston Feb. 25 and 26; Mardi Gras Pre-Olympic Regatta, SVC, March 3 and 4; and Balboa Yacht Club One Design Regatta, Newport Beach, Calif., April 21—kept the Stieffel-Santa Cruz team's chances alive.

Each member of the Stieffel-Santa Cruz-Stieffel team has been sailing since the age of seven.

They have been sailing together on teams at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club for the past 13 years.

Dennis, Randy and Rod have been instrumental in the outstanding success of the BWYC Lipton Team in recent years.

They have also sailed in many regattas and events against each other and have done well individually in major Flying Scot and Sunfish events in the last seven years.

The team members, including their alternate, range in age from 20 to 24.

All members of the team are college students, although they have dropped out of school for a semester to take part in this 1984 Olympic Sailing Campaign.

The trio from BWYC decided last winter to put their sailing talents together in the "Spirit of Bay St. Louis" and go for the "GOLD" in the 1984 Summer Olympic Games.

According to Dennis Stieffel, helmsman, "We have the talent aboard the 'Spirit of Bay St. Louis' to win. It will be a matter of good organization, proper preparation and the execution of our strategy and tactics without mistakes."

"Our boat speed is good and the equipment is in good shape. We plan to have two new suits of sails for the trials. There is no way that we can guarantee winning, but we feel very confident that we have an excellent chance," he added.

The Bay St. Louis team continues to seek tax deductible contributions to their 1984 Olympic Sailing Campaign to help with travel, lodging and other necessary campaign expenses.

Contributions may be made to Stieffel-Santa Cruz-Stieffel "Spirit of Bay St. Louis" Olympic effort by making checks payable to the tax-exempt Olympic Sailing Association of Southern Yacht Club, Post Office Drawer 231, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520.

Contributions will be acknowledged, the team promises.

Below, the trio, with Dennis Stieffel at the helm,

Rod Stieffel as middle crewman and Santa Cruz as forward crew lines up 'The Spirit of Bay St. Louis' for the start of that West Coast event. They begin a ten-race competition Saturday in Long Beach, Calif. for a slot on the U.S. Olympic Sailing Team and a chance for gold in the 1984 Summer Games.

Ties sink undefeated Dental Health

Loiacano's edged in state soccer championships, 3-2

Seven Bay Area Youth Soccer teams journeyed to Starkville this past weekend seeking a State Championship in their respective age and gender divisions.

In the Under 10 Division Loiacano's Health Spa came within one goal of winning its bracket and gaining the finals.

On Saturday Loiacano's got off to a good start by blowing out Vicksburg 5-0 and shutting out Tupelo 2-0 to maintain its unbeaten and unscored upon record against recreational teams.

However, on Sunday against Southwest Jackson Loiacano's got behind 3-0 playing against a strong wind.

A goal just before halftime narrowed the margin to 3-1, but the tying goal was called back due to an offside call and Loiacano's fell one goal short, losing 3-2.

"The kids played well," said Coach Dusty Rhodes. "I expected Jackson to score against us as they are a good team, but not strengthening my defense in the first half proved to be a mistake on my part. This team is as good as any team in the tournament."

A tie was all that Loiacano's needed to reach the finals.

Meanwhile Dillmann Roofing acquitted itself well in tying Clinton 2-2 in its opening game.

In the second game against Starkville injuries plagued Dillmann Roofing as four players, including the goalkeeper, had to be taken out.

The result was that a first half goal by Starkville was sufficient for a 1-0 win.

However, on Sunday the girls bounced back to upset Northeast Jackson 3-2.

"Although the girls did not win their bracket, they played like champions," said Coach Kathy Edwards.

In the Under 12 Division Pat's Chevron never got untracked as it dropped its opener 4-1. In the second game Pat's Chevron appeared to have the game in hand, but a deflected shot off a fullback's head brought Vicksburg a 1-1 tie.

Pat's Chevron dropped the finale on Sunday to Northeast Jackson 3-1.

Dental Health Service maintained its undefeated record for the season against recreational teams and is the only team in the state in this age division that can say that.

However, ties brought on by penalty shots proved to be its undoing. Dental Health came from behind to tie Vicksburg 3-3, but one of the Vicksburg goals was due to a penalty shot.

It took three tries by Tupelo to convert a penalty shot as the first shot hit the post and the second was saved by the goalkeeper, but that score resulted in another tie for Dental Health, 1-1.

On Sunday Dental Health played its best game against Northeast Jackson in a very good but physical contest.

This time the penalty shot goal prevented a shut out, but Dental Health gained a 2-1 victory.

"I felt we were as good as any team in the tournament," said Coach Paul Montjoy, but the penalty shot hurt us. The boys played exceptionally well and should feel proud of their performance."

In the Under 14 Division Knights of Columbus was shut out in its opener 3-0 by Clinton, but came back to decisively defeat Tupelo 4-1.

In the finale on Sunday the Knights ran into a tough Brandon squad which won easily 5-0.

In the Under 16 Division Alcan Cable showed a tight defense and good playmaking in getting by Vicksburg 1-0 and Tupelo 2-0. Needing only a tie on Sunday, Alcan Cable went flat and Southwest Jackson took advantage to score a 4-0 decision.

In girls action Sports World opened up well in the first half against Gulfport, but couldn't score. Then midway through the second half Gulfport scored on a corner kick and went on to win 3-0.

Against Vicksburg Sports World suffered the fate of all Vicksburg's opponents, being annihilated although being the only team to score on Vicksburg.

On Sunday Sports World got off to a slow start as Southwest Jackson opened the scoring on a penalty kick after one abortive try, but came back in the second half to narrowly miss a tie as a final shot at the gun just went wide of the net, resulting in a 2-1 loss.

"BAYS was well represented in this competition," even though no teams reached the finals. Four of the seven teams played even or better against some very tough competition.

All soccer friends, coaches, referees, parents and sponsors are reminded of the BAYS General Membership Meeting/Soccer Party Saturday at the Knights of Columbus Hall at 8 p.m.

"Come socialize and enjoy an evening of entertainment," says President Tom Demboski.

"Find out how BAYS did this year, where we stand, and meet the new board members who will guide BAYS in the future," he added.

Borg-Warner reports record first quarter

Borg-Warner Corporation reports record quarterly earnings for the first quarter ended March 31, 1984, up 41 percent from the year-earlier quarter. James F. Bere, chairman and chief executive officer, told shareholders at the company's 56th annual meeting in Chicago that first quarter earnings were $50.2 million, or 55 cents per share, compared with earnings of $35.5 million, or 40 cents per share, in 1983. Sales were $948 million, compared with $813 million a year ago.

Bere said that strong performances from the company's transportation equipment, chemicals and plastics, and protective services groups led the company's increase in earnings.

Bere noted that the recent improvement in U.S. auto sales aided the transportation equipment group's performance and that the chemicals and plastics group continued to perform well in the U.S. and Europe.

"Our protective services operations continued their growth which should continue through 1984," Bere said.

In February, Borg-Warner completed the acquisition of Gelco Express Corporation, a domestic ground courier.

The combined operations of Borg-Warner's Pony Express Courier Corp. and Gelco, now called Pony Express Courier Corporation of America, constitute the second largest, time-critical ground courier in the U.S.

The company's air conditioning group also showed a slight improvement over last year, according to Bere.

Earnings for Borg-Warner's financial services group were down substantially for the quarter due to the group's need to increase reserves to cover casualty insurance losses, according to Bere. The reserves reduced Borg-Warner's earnings for the current quarter by seven cents per share.

Earnings from affiliates added $2.3 million, of 2 cents per share, to Borg-Warner's first quarter earnings, compared with $3.3 million, or 3 cents per share, in the same period last year.

"I am delighted with our first quarter results. We are starting the year well and, even with the uncertainties in the economy, we expect 1984 to be the best year ever for Borg-Warner," Bere said.

Other annual meeting business included the reelection of three directors. They are James F. Bere, chairman and chief executive officer of Borg-Warner Corporation; Weston R. Christopherson, chairman of Jewel Companies; and James E. Olson, vice chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Company and chairman and chief executive officer of AT&T Technologies.

The stockholders also approved an amendment to double the number of authorized shares of common stock from 125 million to 250 million. The number of preferred shares of stock will remain at 25 million.

Borg-Warner's major products and services are air conditioning equipment, chemicals and plastics, industrial products, transportation equipment, and financial and protective services.

Toomey; Toomey, daughter-in-law Melinda Toomey and son E.J. Toomey. Munro Petroleum distributes Shell products on the Gulf Coast. USM women's coach plans summer basketball clinic Southern Mississippi women's basketball coach Kay James will hold her annual Lady Golden Eagles Basketball Camp for two sessions this summer. The first is set for June 18 to 22 and will be for players entering grades 10 through 12 and the second session will be conducted July 9 to 13 for players entering grades seven through nine.

The camp staff will include several outstanding high school and college coaches throughout the South. Instructions will be given not only on the "basic fundamentals" but also on team and individual concepts. Emphasis will be placed on a "learning atmosphere as well as a fun time for all."

The cost of the camp will be $150 per camper and the fee includes meals, housing, student accident insurance, a camp t-shirt and awards. A day camper rate is also available for $115 per camper.

Serving as Camp director will be coach James, who has just completed her seventh season in charge of the Lady Eagle basketball program. In her 13 years, as a college coach she has compiled an impressive 204-89 record, including an 119-69 mark at USM.

Assisting James will be assistant Camp director Laura Pericelli, who has finished her fourth season on the USM coaching staff and was a two-year basketball letter winner for the Lady Eagles, and assistant coach Shirley Jones, who has completed her first year on the USM coaching staff after being a four-year letter winner for USM.

The camp is sanctioned by the Mississippi High School Activities Association and the Mississippi Private School Activities Association.

Corps sets public hearing on offshore oil activity

The Mobile District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has forwarded a Draft "Environmental Impact Statement" (EIS) concerning exploration, development and production of hydrocarbon resources in Coastal Alabama and Mississippi to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), federal, state and local government agencies and to conservation and other known interests for review.

The purpose of the draft EIS is to provide environmental information which will assist the Corps and other regulatory agencies in making timely and responsible decisions on permit applications for hydrocarbon (oil and gas well) drilling in coastal waters.

Based upon resources and potential activity predictions for the next 30 years the EIS analyzes the physical, biological and socioeconomic impacts of possible hydrocarbon exploration and production activities in coastal Alabama and Mississippi.

Four subregions are considered in the analysis. These include the Mobile-Tensaw River Delta, the coastal estuaries of Mobile Bay and Mississippi Sound and the Alabama and Mississippi state waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Recommendations from the EIS include a proposed general permit for portions of Mobile Bay, Mississippi Sound and Alabama and Mississippi Gulf coastal waters.

A public hearing regarding the EIS and proposed general permit is scheduled for June 14 at the Palmer Pilgrims Middle School, 251 Military Rd., Mobile, Ala., beginning at 7 p.m.

Interested individuals and groups may obtain a copy of the draft EIS by writing or telephoning the Mobile District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, SAMEE-EE, P.O. Box 2228, Mobile, Ala. 36628 or (205) 664-9851.

The image is a dark, high-contrast scan of a document page. It appears to be a book cover or endpaper. There is a large, dark, irregular shape in the center, which could be a shadow or a large mark. Faint, illegible text is visible in the upper and lower portions of the page, but it is too dark to read accurately. The overall appearance is grainy and low-quality.

POSTAL EXAM Clerk-Carrier

Now is the time to begin preparing for the Clerk-Carrier exam. Applications will be accepted during the month of June for all major Gulf Coast Cities. The starting salary for these positions is currently $10.56 per hour and no experience is necessary. The people with the highest scores are hired.

WORKSHOP BY POSTAL EXAM PREPARATION CENTER

Many cities often take applications and begin testing the very next week. This system does not allow adequate time for proper preparation. In order to make sure that you have enough time to properly prepare, this workshop is being offered before application dates have been set. This workshop was designed by the foremost authority in America on gaining postal employment.

Stephen McNally is a former postal employee and a Ph.D. candidate in Education. He has averaged 100% on 5 out of 5 Clerk-Carrier exams and 60% of the Clerk-Carriers recently hired in one city used his methods.

One of Mr. McNally's students recently made this statement, "This workshop was well worth my time and money. Using Mr. McNally's techniques allowed me to score 100% on my first 3 Clerk-Carrier exams." KA Sumerfield, IL.

SCORE 95 OR HIGHER OR YOUR MONEY REFUNDED *The Exclusive P.E.P.C. Double Guarantee: 1. At the end of the workshop, if you do not think these methods will significantly increase your score, your money will be refunded. 2. You will enter a written contract guaranteeing you a score of 95% or higher or your money will be refunded in full.

*After attending this workshop you will be personally notified of the application dates. Please do not call your local Post Office concerning application dates before June 1.

WORKSHOP TUITION IS $25.00. Payable in cash, Visa, or MasterCard. (No personal checks). This fee includes the 2 1/2 hour workshop, the textbook Clerk-Carrier, which includes 3 complete tests, diagnostic practice exercises, tips to make you testwise, and more.

OLA announces STAR team

Courtney A. Egan has been selected as the Star Student at Our Lady's Academy.

Star students are selected on the basis of academic excellence. American College Test scores and scholastic averages are considered in designation of the schools' Star Student.

The Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition (STAR) Program encourages and promotes academic achievement among Mississippi's high school seniors, explained Dr. Ted Alexander of McComb, chairman of the Mississippi Economic Council's Student Teacher Achievement

Recognition (STAR) Committee.

"Top scholars are being designated as Star Students in more than 325 participating schools in Mississippi. From these Star Students area winners are selected, and the council awards scholarships to the state's top three Star Students and their Star Teachers," Alexander said.

Funds for the scholarships are provided by the Phil Hardin Foundation of Meridian. In addition to being selected Star Student, Egan is a member of the National Honor Society, the French Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta and Project Do. She is also photography editor of the Yearbook and the senior class secretary/treasurer.

Each Star Student is asked to designate a Star Teacher, a teacher who has made the greatest contribution to the student's scholastic achievement. Mrs. Mary A. Benvenuti was designated Star Teacher.

Mrs. Benvenuti has a BA from the University of Mississippi and an MAE from William Carey College. She has taught for 28 years. Mrs. Benvenuti teaches English and psychology at Our Lady's Academy.

She was also designated Star Teacher in 1980.

State agency promoting chemical-free graduations

The combination of consuming alcoholic beverages or using drugs to celebrate a high school graduation plus a teenager's relative inexperience in driving a motor vehicle could be a major cause of deaths and injuries for Mississippi teenagers this spring, according to the Governor's Highway Safety Program (GHSP).

To help combat this problem, GHSP and Jackson's

Provine High School have launched a pilot Project Graduation program to eliminate alcoholic beverages and drugs from Provine graduation parties.

"The Project Graduation idea originated in Maine where many high school seniors saw alcohol as the traditional toast, an appropriate way to celebrate one's graduation," said Glenn Fleming, GHSP's local alcohol coordinator.

"During a graduation season in one of Maine's school districts, seven teenagers were killed, one was paralyzed and several others were arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol. This got a lot of people's attention."

"A group of school and community leaders were determined not to let this tragedy happen again," Fleming said, and the idea of having chemical-free graduation parties emerged.

The group arranged for funding and putting on parties that would meet a variety of teenage interests, and during the graduation season the school district did not have a single fatality, any alcohol-related traffic accidents or any student arrests for driving under the influence.

"The idea eventually spread to 86 schools," he said, "and during a six-week period of the project in 1983, not a single teenager from these schools died in an alcohol-related crash. Now Project Graduation is spreading to other states."

Fleming noted that Project Graduation is more than just one or a few chemical-free parties.

It's an idea of celebrating one of the most important occasions in a teenager's life without the ingredients that can lead to death or serious injury on the highway.

It clearly illustrates that you don't need alcoholic beverages to have a good time, and many students in Maine have found the pattern of Project Graduation parties to be a good pattern for other parties.

"It can show a lot of teenagers who didn't know how to have a good time at a party without alcohol or drugs that you can have a great time without them," Fleming said.

Provine High School's principal, John W. Kennedy, two Provine students, Dornice Walker, a senior, and Quinta Sudbury, a junior, and Sgt. Chip Pippin, administrative assistant to Jackson's police chief, are working closely with Fleming in Project Graduation.

"We at Provine believe that our young people are begging for leadership and guidance," Kennedy said.

"If they don't see this, they might go the way of alcohol and drugs. I firmly believe in the inherent goodness of young people, and a lot of the problems we've seen are incurred as a result of no well-planned activities sponsored by concerned adults. Essentially, we believe that if you fail to plan, you plan to fail." Pippin said that teenage driving is being scrutinized more closely today than ever before. Such efforts as Project Graduation can be the first step which hopefully will lead to lower fatalities and accident rates among our younger drivers.

Provine is planning to have two graduation-related chemical-free parties, Kennedy said. One will be in conjunction with the school's May 5 prom and the other in conjunction with commencement on June 7.

"Last year, 91 young people, ages 15 through 19, were killed in motor vehicles on Mississippi highways, streets and roads," Fleming said. "All of our studies indicate that at least half of these fatalities were related to alcohol or drugs."

"Sometimes, teenagers who previously did not drink alcoholic beverages or use drugs yield to peer pressure to drink or use drugs at graduation parties," he noted.

"This is a particularly bad time for a teenager to feel left out, and he or she may be willing to pay virtually any price to gain peer approval."

"Chemical-free graduation parties across Mississippi," Fleming said, "could help ensure that high school graduations are not dimmed by motor vehicle deaths or injuries. Although Provine High School is involved in our pilot Project Graduation program, I hope many other high schools also will have similar programs this spring."

High school officials, parents, students or other concerned with safe graduation parties may contact Fleming for Project Graduation suggestions by dialing 354-6892.

PRC faculty, staff face next year's inflation with last year's wages

Faculty and staff salaries have been frozen at Pearl River College.

For the second time within three years, Dr. Marvin R. White, PRC's president, has had bad news for his faculty and staff during the April faculty meeting.

"There will be no pay increases for the 1984-85 school year," Dr. White said. "Salaries have been frozen."

It's the same news Dr. White gave two years ago when he announced that salaries would be frozen for the '82-'83 session. Last year, PRC employees received a 12-14 percent increase.

"You all deserve a raise," Dr. White said, "but all I can give you is an explanation. We are not expecting any increase from state appropriation for the next school year."

White explained that the State Legislature appropriated $47,473,347 for the support of Mississippi junior colleges for the fiscal year 1984. After contracts were awarded, all state agencies' budgets were reduced by five percent.

Pearl River College was able to absorb the five percent reduction and PRC faculty and staff salaries were not affected last fall.

This year the State Legislature passed a bill with a total appropriation of $48,423,347. This was an increase of $950,000 above the Budget Commission recommendations.

After the five percent cut last year, Pearl River College received $2,448,639, however, the State Division of Junior Colleges has projected that Pearl River will receive $2,390,637 for the fiscal year 1985 or $58,002 less than in FY '84.

The decrease in state support is the result of a loss in enrollment of 58 students from the previous year's enrollment as counted by the Junior College State Office.

There were 45 fewer academic and technical students and 43 less vocational students who registered during the '83 fall semester than '82's fall semester.

Our decline in enrollment can be attributed to tougher standards," Dr. White said. "We are improving the quality of incoming and outgoing students and this will cost us students."

After the '83 session nearly 100 students were suspended and another couple hundred were on probation.

"We are on the right road," Dr. White said. "Our quality of education is improving. Down the road our enrollment will start climbing again."

Last summer new financial aid and admission requirements were implemented. This coming fall all students are required to have an ACT score on file before registering. No minimum score is required to enter PRC this fall, but, it is sure to come.

"We are sending a message to high school students that they need to prepare to enter Pearl River College," White said. "We want them to know that when they attend Pearl River College they'll have to be ready to work."

Pearl River College student fees have been increased for the fall session. Tuition was increased $10—from $190 per semester to $200, and room and board fees were upped about seven percent.

As Dr. White explained, this will only keep pace with the rising utility costs.

"Pearl River College is sound financially," Dr. White said. "And we intend on staying that way." No programs will be cut this next year and departmental budgets will remain about the same.

Bay public schools set two computer sessions

The Bay-St. Louis Public School District will be conducting two summer sessions of computer assisted instruction in mathematics and reading.

The program is designed to meet the needs of students in grades one to seven with individual instruction in either or both mathematics and reading.

The program may be used for remedial skill training or enrichment in the skill areas.

Tuition for the program will be $50. Lyn Parrish will be the coordinator for the sessions.

Students will be scheduled for one hour per day Monday thru Friday.

The first session will be held at Waveland Elementary School from May 23 to June 8. Registration for this session will be held May 21 at 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Waveland Elementary School from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The second session will be held at North Bay Elementary school from June 4 to July 13. Registration for this session will be June 1 at Bay Senior High School from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Karen Ladner to serve as Bay Miss Hospitality

Karen Ladner, a student at Pearl River Junior College and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ladner, was chosen as Miss Hospitality 1984 for Bay St. Louis at the city's pageant April 28.

Michele Heitzman, a 1984 graduate of Bay Senior High School and daughter of Jay Heitzman and Mrs. Linda Penrose, was selected first alternate.

Lisa Kingston, a 1984 graduate of Our Lady Academy and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kingston, was chosen second alternate.

Judges for the pageant were Virginia Toney, Jeanene Jones and Bennetta Hatchett.

Toney is WKMG radio production manager in Bay St. Louis, holds a bachelor's degree in interpersonal communications and has eight years of experience in public relations, television and radio.

Jones, who was 1980 Miss Hospitality for the City of Natchez and first runner-up in the state pageant that same year, is self-employed in the oil land lease business and resides in Gulfport with her husband Wade.

Hatchett and her husband Ira are owners of WXGR Radio in Bay St. Louis.

This year's pageant was a tribute to country-Western music, chosen to welcome back country-Western music to the local radio station and also to honor WXGR as a co-sponsor of the city's pageant.

The stage setting, designed by Janet Aime and William A. Johnson Jr., was a typical country scene complete with red barn, sunflowers, cornfield, bales of hay and many small props appropriate to a farm scene.

Jim Odom of WXGR served as master of ceremonies.

Entertainment was provided by Marilyn Raye, a local artist also with WXGR, and guitarist Kenny Hill who also sang several numbers.

The five contestants danced to "Rocky Top," which was choreographed by Michele Heitzman.

Escorts for the contestants were furnished by Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi as part of Keesler's involvement in community affairs along the Gulf Coast, with arrangements made through Lt. Col. Thomas A. Hornung, director of public affairs.

The escorts were Staff Sgt. Terry Gordon, Staff Sgt. Bart O'Connor, Staff Sgt. Dudley Wiremann, Tech. Sgt. Ulysses Mullins and Senior Airman Steve Manning.

Karen Ladner was crowned by Mayor Larry J. Bennett and received a first place trophy and arm bouquet of flowers.

Michele Heitzman was presented with a trophy and flowers and Lisa Kingston received a special proclamation from the City of Bay St. Louis.

The other two contestants—Christy McNeal and Beth Wilson—will also be honored by Mayor Bennett for their participation in the pageant.

Police dog visits school

Mrs. Jessie Hathorn's second grade class at Delisle Elementary School in Pass Christian has been engaged in final activities following a study unit on careers.

Mrs. Sandra Smith visited the class recently to talk about her career in portrait painting and display some of her work. Mrs. Susie Ray, LPN, discussed her work at the South Mississippi Retardation Center.

Patrolmen Grice and Martin from the Pass Christian Police Department brought B.J., the Pass Christian police dog to school with them, talked to the students and gave a demonstration of B.J. in action.

Following the class' final test on careers, the students presented research papers on the careers of their choice to the kindergarten and other second grade class.

At this presentation the 2A students dressed to depict the careers they had chosen.
